[1924] Poros Stone House

Price: 550.000€

This recently restored 3-bedroom house awaits your finishing touches

This recently restored 3-bedroom house awaits your finishing touches

Set in the beautiful traditional village of Poros, where the verdant slopes of the hills create a stunning contrast against the blue sea and the white pebble beach of Mikros Gialos.

A beautifully and fully restored house, where the tiled roof, stone walls, and wood details pay homage to the old classic village architecture, while modern amenities offer all the necessary comforts.

The lower level is the "hestia", the heart, of the house; an open-plan area where the family can gather and exchange. An impressive wood staircase leads upstairs to a foyer that can easily be used as a second sitting area, a spot to relax and unwind.

The first of the three bedrooms and a bathroom with a shower are on the ground floor, opposite the living area. The other two bedrooms and the second bathroom, which features a shower, are located on the first floor. The balconies and terraces are spacious, ideal spots for al fresco dining and living.
